GERMANS IN SPAIN

ACTIVITIES OF OTTO SKORZENY

Source: [] of San Sebastian

According to [] of San Sebastian, it is he who is one of the closest confidants of SKORZENY. The latter was in San Sebastian in LARINO's house the first time that he entered Spain, and [] also hid SKORZENY at a country place in Navarre and owned by his wife.

According to what source says, he later lost direct contact with SKORZENY when SKORZENY went to Alicante to work, but again renewed the contact when SKORZENY recently passed through San Sebastian and spent five days at his home.

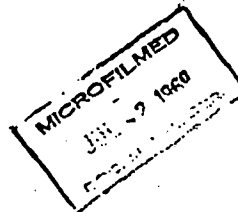

[] says that SKORZENY's stay in Spain has terminated, since when he left recently he did not return. He says that SKORZENY went to Vienna.

He states that "there is no sense his remaining in Spain since he has been with the person whom he should meet".

The above quotation is the only explanation that SKORZENY has given him [] adds as a personal suspicion that the person might be General EISENHOWER.
